Are they allowing your emails to go thru?

I ensure all my emails reach their intended recipients, even though they keep blocking my addresses. Fortunately, I have over 50 email accounts and use a different one each time. Now that the mail strike is over, I'll make sure every PE member gets printed copies as well. A reliable source informed me that Barb instructed the IT department to delete my emails as soon as they are identified, preventing PE members from reading the content. I can confirm my emails are being received when I get an out-of-office reply from at least one recipient. Interestingly, Bal Sandhu always seems to be out of the office—perhaps busy with his third job assisting his wife, who happens to be an NDP MLA. I doubt she's blocked my emails herself—she prefers controlling the narrative, as always. That's likely why she had her "bodyguard" Bill briefly joined this group before I removed him. I'm sure Bill earned a biscuit for his short but dedicated service.
